Individual Reflection Week 7 - Patrik Olsson

What do I want to learn or understand better?

What is (A):
I currently do not understand LiveData which is an important part of our implementation. This will have to change in order to correctly implement the CoffeeSearcher.

What might or should be (B):
I have to understand LiveData better.

A plan for going from A to B:
I think the best way is to try, google and ask questions to my team and see if anyone of them could know the answer.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

What is (A):
I think everyone has a good understanding of the development platform.

What might or should be (B):
If someone where to not understand something or need help, I could try to help them.

A plan for going from A to B:
By being available in discord where most questions are asked.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

What is (A):
Like last week, I contribute similarly to the rest of the group. I participate in planning the userstories and planning poker (to estimate the workload of each task). However, like last week, our estimations were a bit off which leaves userstories undone.

What might or should be (B):
I think we could possibly set a better estimate but it is not easy as we all work at a different velocity.

A plan for going from A to B:
I don't know if we can do anything else than trial and error.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

What is (A):
I think my contribution is on par with the rest of the group.

What might or should be (B):
Probably just continue with what I am contributing with.

A plan for going from A to B:
I can keep on working with both the code and help others with their task if needed.
